

High School Campus: Learning Assistance & Special Education Coordinator (maternity leave) beginning Feb. 19, 2018 (possibly earlier). This is part-time position – 60% to 80% (negotiable). This position will continue into the 2018-19 school year at the same or higher % employment.

Langley Christian School values inclusive special education where students with learning differences are included in the classroom and high school program with their peers to the greatest extent possible, with the implementation of alternate educational programs or learning activities when appropriate.

This position involves working with the other High School Learning Assistance/Special Ed Coordinator, EAs, and high school teachers in the development and implementation of IEPs, Learning Support Plans, and planning life skills and work experience opportunities for our Grade 11 & 12 students. The successful applicant will also be part of the K – 12 Educational Support Services team at Langley Christian School.

We are seeking applicants who:

- Are BC certified teacher (or able to become certified in BC)
- Have a minimum 2 years of successful classroom teaching
- Have certification in special education (or have coursework in special education)

Additional courses and/or experience in assessment/testing theory and practice, and strategies for teaching, adapting and modifying the curriculum to meet the diverse needs of students is an asset.

Please submit a resume, statement of faith, and philosophy of Christian Education to:
